

CHINOOK

ADVANCE

The Best Wheat and Mixed Farming Lands in Alberta

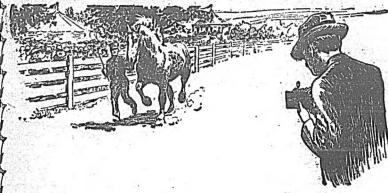

VOL IV. NO 9

CHINOOK, ALBERTA, JUNE 21, 1917

Subscription : $1.00 per year, In advance. Single Copy, 5 cents

Oh, You Rain ! Tarry with Us Here For a Spell !

CHINOOK PHARMACY

We have now in stock a full line of

KODAKS and FILMS

and Photographic Supplies

Bring your Films to Us for Developing

Baseball Supplies

CHINOOK PHARMACY
ARM'S BLOCK, CHINOOK.

Gents Furnishings

Our stock is now complete with a full line of Gents' Furnishings

Come in and see our Stock

—OF—

Lounge and Dress Shirts

Sports Shirts and Golf Shirts

Hats and Caps

in all shades and colors

Boots and Shoes

A very large stock from the best makers to choose from.
Having bought heavily before the big advance in leather, we are in a position to give you the very best goods at lowest prices

One of these days—and not very far distant, either—there will be something doing over Berlin that will convince the Huns that dropping bombs is a game two can play at.

If men give up trousers for kilts as is foreshadowed in England women will have to devise a new costume to meet the competition with their own short skirts.

Let's see, what's his name now? Mr. Constantine?

Chinook Consolidated S.D. No. 16 R. M. OF COLTHOLME

The tanks seem to be harder for the Germans to control than the submarines are for the British.

Exist, Constantine. He was conveyed to "Somewhere" by a British warship.

Cheer up, Con. Your brother-in-law will soon join you.

Considering the price of shoes it is well that the fashion of short skirts permits them to be seen.

All the German air monsters seem to want is an opportunity to kill women who are rocking children to sleep.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the "bondman" of the Dominion is a freeman who is going to aid in spreading Liberty throughout the world.

If there is any foreign country not yet insulted or injured by Germany, her foreign office would like to know, that it can make the necessary arrangements.

Since conscription may soon become a reality many a man, perhaps, wishes he could be born again—as a woman.

With the threat that the Japs will lick them if they don't fight the Germans, the Russians are certainly between two fires.

It was probably the report that bases had been organized in France for the American troops that inspired the baseball players to enlist for service.

England calls for air reprisals. The late German raids have very much strengthened those who demand that towns in Germany be bombed.

Let's see. Didn't some warrior bold declare in the federal house, 1914, a week or two before the war broke out, when the government's naval bill was up for discussion, "that there was no emergency."

The Stockholm Socialists, finding that they couldn't even make the world safe for Socialism, have at last done the thing that the world will surely applaud them for. They have adjourned.

It wouldn't be so bad if the loan slacker was the lone slacker.

The 3rd meeting of the R. M. of Coltholme, for 1917, met at Coltholme schoolhouse, Saturday May 12th, at 10 o'clock.

Members present: Messrs. Marr, Hittle, Key, Harrington and Gordanier.

Correspondence read. Hittle, that each road foreman be provided with a cook car and a bunk car for the accommodation of his men, men to be charged 40c per meal for their board.

Harrington, that Municipality engage three road foremen and three outifts—one for the east, one for the centre and one for west.

Key, that road foremen sign all bills for supplies for his outfit for material, for culverts, for repairs, for machinery used, etc., and have same sent to the Sec. so that the statements received by the Secretary from the persons supplying these goods may be checked by these slips.

Following accounts paid: O. F. Dunford, gop. poi. 77.40 H. E. Ramage " 55.80 Chinook Advance, print'g 15.90 Plaindealer, adv'tg 1.50 Herald Printing Co 4.08 Saskatoon Star, adv'tg 4.45

Key, that Secretary order five Russell road drags No. 8, from Kelly-Powell, Limited, also two frefnoes, same as ordered last year.

Marr, that each Councillor notify Secretary of number culverts required for his division, and that same be ordered from the Canada Ingot Iron Co. and charged to the township in which they are used.

Hittle, that Alex Reardon be weed inspector for div 1, salary $75.00

Gordanier, that C. C. Carnegie be weed inspector for div 4, salary $75.00

Gordanier, that the Council is in favor of opening the blind line north of secs 14 and 15, in 28-9, providing satisfactory arrangements can be made with the owners of land required.

Key, that Mr. Hobson be road foreman for east division of the municipality.

Harrington, that Nestor Anderson be road foreman for the centre division.

Gordanier, that Mr. Forbes be road foreman for the west div.

Marr, that road foreman and Councillors in each division arrange for a cook car and a bunk car for the division.

Marr, that cook be paid $2.50 per day.

Marr, that each road foreman see that the machinery in his division is left in charge of some responsible person or persons in the division, and that a statement regarding same be sent to the Secretary, at the close of the season's work.

Gordanier, that Messrs. Marr and Key be delegates from this municipality to a meeting of representatives from the various municipalities in the constituency to be held at Cereal, in the near future, for the purpose of furthering the work of the Patriotic Fund in the constituency.

Key, that the R. M. of Coltholme donate $2500.00 to the Patriotic Fund this year, this amount to be paid before Dec. 1.

Marr, that Council acknowledge a communication from the Chinook hospital board, and that Sec. be instructed to notify them that the Council of this municipality is in favor of uniting with the Rural Municipalities of Sounding Creek, Golden Centre, and Cereal and the villages therein, in forming a hospital district for the purpose of establishing a hospital for this district.

Marr, that Secretary be instructed to write Mr. H. Smith of Clemens, stating that the Council have no authority to allow him to put even a temporary fence across the road allowance, as the same is contrary to the provisions of the criminal code.

Adjourned at call of reeve

Fifth meeting of the R. M. of Coltholme for 1917, met at the schoolhouse, June 16th.

Present: Messrs. Marr, Hittle Key, Harrington, Falconer and Gordanier.

Minutes read adopted.

Correspondence read.

Following accounts were paid:

G A Ross, mgr Bank of Toronto, tent bot at sale 23.00

Jonah-Pratt Lbr Co, 1916 17.85

West Muni News, staty 88.15

Kelly-Powell Co, irsnoes 84.00

Pay sheets, division 4 1176.00

R D Vanhook, roadwork 154.00

Laughlin S.D. 200.00

Coltholme " 200.00

Rearville " 100.00

Swan " 100.00

Keystone " 300.00

Mapleine " 100.00

Heathdale " 100.00

Stimson " 100.00

Rainbow " 300.00

Lorne Proudfoot, salary 200.00

Adam A. Marr, coun. lees 26.50

C. B. Hittle " 34.00

Jno N. Key " 23.50

O. D. Harrington " 17.10

W. S. Falconer " 31.80

Ray Gordanier " 18.70

(Continued on page 4)

WORK OF IMPERIAL CONFERENCE STRENGTHENS BONDS OF EMPIRE

RECOGNITION OF SELF-GOVERNING DOMINIONS

Readjustment of Constitutional Relations of Component Parts
Of the Empire may be Considered at a Special Conference
To be Held Immediately After the War

The colonial secretary, Right Hon. Walter Hume Low, has issued a statement respecting the work of the Imperial war conference, together with a number of resolutions adopted by the conference. It is stated that some of the matters are of the most confidential character and that the publication of the resolutions and the debates upon them will probably be delayed until after the war.

More than details were given in the respect to the resolutions which are now publishable. On no occasion was it necessary to divide or to withdraw a motion because an agreement could not be reached.

The conference has issued its instructions to a number of commissioners and recommends that the governments concerned co-operate, especially for the promotion of inter-imperial trade.

It records the view that the 1902 imperial conference resolution to modify the constitution of India for representation of India in all future imperial conferences, and that the assent thereto of the various governments obtained.

H. R. H. the royal elder son, an imperial general on the lines proposed by the Prince of Wales to the prime minister. The conference records its deepest appreciation of the freedom of the dominions in maintaining in perpetuity the land where our men are buried, and it urges that similar arrangements be made in the peace terms with all the allies, enemy and neutral governments, in Galilee, Mesopotamia, Africa and elsewhere.

The conference expresses the opinion that a readjustment of the important and intricate subject as to constitutional relations of the component parts of the Empire should be discussed during the war, and should be discussed at a special imperial conference to be held immediately after the war. The conference records further that such readjustments should be based on the full existing powers of self-government and complete control of domestic affairs should be based upon a full recognition of the dominions as autonomous nations of the imperial commonwealth and that an important portion thereof, should recognize the right of the dominions and India to a voice in foreign policy and foreign relations and should provide effective arrangements for a full consultation on all important matters of common imperial interest and for such concerted action founded on that consultation as the several governments shall determine.

The conference recognizes the importance of securing uniformity of Empire policy and action in regard to naturalization and commands the proposals submitted to the overseas governments by the home office.

Recommendations were made to delay in taking steps for the establishment in London of an imperial mineral resource bureau, on which the whole Empire shall be represented, whose duties shall include advising how to develop the mineral resources and make available to meet the Empire's metal requirements.

In view of the experience of the war the conference draws attention to the importance of developing adequate communications, particularly of naval and military material, munitions and supplies in all important parts of the Empire, including the Pacific countries bordering on the Indian and Indian oceans, and the South Pacific, at the earliest possible date.

It affirms the importance of close co-operation between India, the dominions and the United Kingdom, with this object in view.

The conference urges that the present system of double income taxation on the Empire be taken in hand immediately after the war, and the law so amended as to remedy the present unsatisfactory position.

In view of the war experience the conference recommends for the safety of the Empire and the necessary development of its component parts, prompt attentive consideration and concerted action in regard, first, to the need of a general system of supply and arrangements for its transportation when and where required under any conditions that reasonably may be anticipated; secondly, to the control of mineral resources, whether within the Empire, and especially those of an essential character for national purposes, whether in peace or war; thirdly, to the economic utilization of the manufacturing processes carried on within the Empire; and recommends that the governments concerned consider the enactment of legislation in this direction.

It's Bad Business

Restrictive immigration regulations affecting Canadians, as well as tariff measures, usually bring retaliation by the Dominion government. So it is not unlikely that Americans going to Canada will soon be paying a heavy tax, or that they will go elsewhere, to the English-speaking world before they wish over the border. The intercourse between the two countries has been growing steadily in the last few years, and is one of the most important of the foreign customers of the United States. It is unfortunate that provisions of the new law would hit Canadians, for aside from friendliness we may feel toward them, it is bad business.—Buffalo Express.

Aerial Transport After the War for Civil and Commercial Purposes After the War

The announcement was made in the British house of commons by Major John C. Baird, representative of the Royal Flying Corps, that the government had decided to appoint a committee under the chairmanship of Lord Northcliffe, to investigate civil aerial transport after the war.

Major Baird said the committee would permit of the employment of the large number of skilled pilots and the airplanes in the hands of the army and navy, as well as of the still vast number of machines, the destruction of which is under way or planned.

Major Baird said the committee would consider and report on steps to be taken for the development and organization after the war for civil and commercial purposes, from domestic, imperial and international points of view, and the extent to which it would be possible to utilize the trained personnel and the aircraft at the conclusion of peace would be available.

The Real London

Canadian Women See Things As They Are in War Time

"London has been a great surprise to me," said a Canadian lady to the Daily Mirror.

"When I was last in London," she continued, "we were just clearing up the Boer War. I then saw London for the first time, a young girl playing football with silk stockings out side the stock exchange and girls dancing in Trafalgar square. Everywhere the war in those days was looked upon as kind of picnic."

She is a different person now. During the past month I have sought, but could find no trace of the gay, thoughtless London crowds I saw then. London has become grimly earnest. It is no longer watching a war with wide eyes.

And itself. The Londoners feel they are fighting, and they mean to win.

"In only a little West End circle that I have come across with a compass, I have found women who are fighting for their country. The city is really London at all, I think. It is a cosmopolitan village in Bohemia, entirely unrepresentative of your national life."

"The real London is working and making daily sacrifices with strong determination."

"You can see it among the men in the city and in the factories. They are working at high pressure, and for victory. It is not that they are British, they are not cosmopolitan."

"And the women in the suburbs? They have justified their little red villages in the matter of thrift. Every suburban woman has a quota of money to spend, and in every suburban street I have found women carrying on gladly and smiling."

"The whole extent and character of women's labor I find has been changed by the war. In no instance have I found that the women of London have lost or are losing their womanliness."

"On the contrary, I think they are today realizing a deeper sense of womanhood, and in making a sacrificeless strength for making a sacrifice greater than ever before."

"Just one word more. The London of today is a cleaner city morally than it has ever been. There is a quota of money to spend, and in every suburban street I have found women carrying on gladly and smiling."

"Don't send out reports to Canada and the world that the London that I have seen is a great Britain of the past, and the victim of illness. The real London is just splendid. There is no need to tarnish her banners."

John and Jonathan

A Day of Celebration Which Would Belong to Both Peoples

But now the thrill of a great common cause is lost between Britain and America. A common language, a common duty, as well as common memories and a common tongue, suggest a day of celebration which belongs to both peoples. Upon the day the conference adjourned, England should be interviewed hereafter, as they are interviewed at the sudden call of war, in our capital, when they will be a happy augury for the continuance of the present intimacy of emotion and purpose.—Boston Transcript.

"I'm afraid," said the junior member of the law firm, "that we are causing our client unnecessary trouble."

"Really?"

"Yes—she broke her leg in three places an hour after she arrived, and the doctor wouldn't let her be moved."

It Didn't Come in a Day

War Only Precipitated Present Day Conditions in Respect to Farm Products

The present conditions relative to farm products have not been wholly developed since the war broke out. The war simply precipitated matters. For several years large urban centers have been built up at the expense of the rural areas. Wages have been higher in the city than the farmer could afford to pay, and other attractions of urban centers served to draw the population to those centers and to hold it there. Cities began to grow, and the war, it is true, began to show the results of their under-manned condition, and the farmer has his most serious problem to face, namely, the labor problem. He finds that he cannot get enough labor to tend the wages he has paid him, that if he figures the hired man got all the profit from the increased production, so he did to do without the hired man, because there is considerable waste of growing crops, and men are used to pass over, as any business man would, the farmer felt safer to cut down expenditure where he was not assured that a profit would result from it. And he had to pay blank wages, which he attempted to hire, which would leave him a profit, those men, accustomed to receiving higher pay in the cities, deliberately shunned the call to the farm and they came to call it while they evaded expression of their produce dealers and grocery stores exhibited for their perusal price-lists of farm products. Now the farmer has done what he has done, and he has done it.

He is already, however, in a difficult position, because there would be a great waste of labor if he did not hire more horses and wider implements. He is already working too long hours as he has done in the past. It is to the city people that the appeal comes, for their benefit that increased production should be brought about. If they could once understand the problem with which the farmer must face they would be increasingly sympathetic toward him, and help him to carry the country, and more quickly get the necessary legislation which would bring about a change in conditions of rural life.—Farmers' Advocate.

Why Americans Enlist So Slowly

They Want Lots Cast and Then They'll Take Their Chances as Indicated

Annesley Burrows writes as follows in the Detroit Free Press:

"The spring to arms over night according to the promise of anti-preparedness congressmen, have not yet sprung. In fact the United States has not as yet produced as many rifles as they had hoped. However, during the first weeks of the war,

Excluding the French Canadians, who have not responded to the call, Canada has only a few more than 5,000,000 men while the United States stands at about 20 million, that is to say, less than half of von Bissing's ideal. But another part, the deportation of skilled workmen to Germany has been carried out to some extent and perhaps to a greater extent than was expected. The last news, namely, the driving of the weakest of the Belgian population in front of the British guns.

On other fronts, Bissing was no better than the whole German general staff. He was merely frank, the rest of the world carry out such a program with perfect cheerfulness.—Ottawa Journal-Press.

Journalists Cause Trouble

U. S. Correspondents in Berlin Exposed by Gerard

The United States readers, and American newspaper writers, who were so surprised by the swift sent out by United States news correspondents in Berlin, Cyril Brown, James D. Donnelly, Bert Williams, Bayard H. Keeler, and Weigert, and the rest, Ex-Ambassador Gerard paid his compliments to these worthies in a speech which he delivered in New York a few days ago, when he said:

"I have had a good time in Germany from the American correspondents when they went there.

Most of them became super-ambassadors and proceeded to inform the Germans of their political beliefs, that they did not believe the president—they must not believe the American people—but believe these people. And to a great extent this was due to the fact that these German-American correspondents, number of whom misinformed the German government to the sentiments of this country. Of course, there were some among them that remained true blue Americans, but I am sorry to say that the young men of the United States are less courageous than the young men of Canada.

The fact simply is that the young men of the United States are more progressive, than the young men of Canada. The Canadians stuck to the old fashioned idea of volunteering, but the Americans, I think, believe that the state has no right to call on its young men to sacrifice life and fortune for the benefit of the whole nation.

In their opinion, it was the duty of the state to do this favor, it is people that remain true to the people, and the privilege of commanding when they feel like it, or of telling the state to go have it if they did not choose to come to its aid. In a word, it never occurred to a Canadian to raise an army by any other means than the volunteer method.

There are many American boys who share the Canadian view, and while these are not enlisting over here, they are not in a position to do so, because they are not willing to do the same thing that the people of Canada did, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health.

It is possible to do this, but they do not see why certain ones should spring to arms, while a lot of others, who over the years did not want to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

and to others, who are not willing to do so, and make high wages or great fortunes out of the war in which the volunteers make nothing but on the contrary lose legs, blood, and health,

STAMPEDE
Agricultural and Live Stock Exhibition • Race Meet
Baseball Tournament • Night Street Carnival
3 GREAT SHOWS IN 1
Medicine Hat, July 10-11-12-13
$25,000 IN PRIZES.
100 Hours of Continuous Fun!
All Profits for Patriotic Purposes
Auto Transportation from City to Grounds 35c.
Ample Sleeping Accommodation at Regular Fixed Charges
Cheap Rates on all Railroads.
For Prize Lists and other particulars write G. W. McClefferty, Sec.
"Turn 'Er Loose!"

CHAPMAN & VENNARD
Chinook, Alta.

GENERAL DRAYING

All orders promptly attended to Office: Opp. Crown Lumber yard

TOOTH,
THE TAILOR

Cleaning Pressing
Repairing

Massey-Harris Block, Chinook
Opposite Hotel

Chinook Lodge, No. 113, meets every Monday at 8:00 p.m. in Arms' hall, Chinook. Visiting members are cordially invited. M. J. Hewitt, N.G.
E. B. Mills, R. S.

ROBT. URE, M.A., LL.B.
(Glasgow and Edinburgh)
Barrister - Solicitor - Notary

Collections a Specialty.

YOUNGSTOWN, ALBERTA.
Office: Main Street, next Dominion Lands Office.

Money to Loan
On Farm Property

THE NATIONAL TRUST CO.
Saskatoon
Interest 8 per cent, 5 years.
Prompt service
E. R. DELL, Agent
Office Empire Lumber Co., Ltd.

J. H. ACHESON
THE
RAWLEIGH MAN

Spices Extracts
Toilet Goods
Stock Remedies and Human Medicines.

Mail orders promptly attended to.
Send for Almanac and Receipt Book.

CEREAL, - ALTA.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

CHINOOK LODGE, No. 40, meets on the First and Third Thursdays of every month in their Castle Hall, Arm's Block, Chinook.

Visiting members are cordially invited to attend.

E. R. Dell, C.C.

Griffiths & Co.
Office next Postoffice
Money to loan at lowest rates
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries,
CONVEYANCERS, ETC.
YOUNGSTOWN, - ALBERTA

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS

THE sole head of a family, or any man over 16 years of age, may own a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Land Office, Land Agency or Sub-Agency, and pay a fee. Entry by money may be made at any Dominion Land Agency (but not at Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence and payment of taxes are required. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required, except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $100 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of six years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions. Price $100 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

W. W. CORY, C.M.G.
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

N.B.—Unauthorized publications of this advertisement will not be paid for.—64388

R. H. OF COLHOLME

(Continued from page 1)

Hittle, that the appropriation for each township for road work this year be $1000.00, as well as certain balances of moneys appropriated but not expended in 1915 and 1916, these balances being as follows: 26-7, $217.75; s hf 27-7, $257.00; n hf 27-7, $217.50; 28-7, $284.50; 26-8, $165.50; s hf 27-8, $114.50; n hf 27-8, $399.00; 28-8, $74.00; 26-9, $685.00; s hf 27-9, $128.00; n hf 27-9, $55.25; 28-9, $103.00.

The Reeve and Secretary were authorized to borrow $1000.00 for general fund and $1500.00 for school tax trust fund.

Gordanier, that nothing further be done towards opening the blind line north of sec 14 and 15, in 28-9, as satisfactory arrangements cannot be made for securing the land required.

Hittle, that Reginald Britton be appointed as weed inspector for div 1, instead of Alex Reardon. Adjourned to Saturday, July 21st, at 10 o'clock a.m.

Advised Them to Get Together

AND SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES:

After hearing the several witnesses on both sides of the case in the action brought by C. A. Maurer of Clemens against Miller McCullough of Irricana, Mr. Justice McCarthy suggested in his opinion the parties ought to get together and come to some amicable settlement, and adjourned the hearing accordingly.

The action was for rent of 80 acres of land belonging to Maurer, lying near Irricana, the consideration being, according to the plaintiff, one-quarter of the crop return, while according to the defendant he was to have the use of this land for the plowing.

The Real Soldier's View

In a congratulatory address to his troops on the great victory they won at Messines a few days ago Gen. Haig, the head of the British army in France, referred to the German soldiers as "brave and tenacious."

That is exactly the way in which all real soldiers have always referred to their enemies, even though their enemies have given them some terrible work before they were defeated.

And it is the way of common sense even as it is the way of soldierly experience. For it is not much credit for a soldier to defeat an enemy unless he is brave and tenacious.

One can easily decide as to the calibre of a soldier when one hears him speak about his opponents.

If he is a real soldier, a brave and tenacious man himself, he gives his enemy full credit for possessing soldierly qualities.

$10.00 Reward

For information leading to the name of the party who took 1 gallon of white paint and 1½ gallons of red paint from A. R. Osterberg's barn during the late picnic and dance at Rearville.

On Your Summer Trip

TRAVEL CANADIAN NORTHERN

PACIFIC COAST

Summer Excursion Fares to Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego

On sale June 15th to September 30th Final return limit October 31st. Stop-over allowed.

EASTERN CANADA

Round Trip 60 Days. Summer Tourist.

Fares June 1st to September 30th. Standard Electric-lighted Trains carrying Compartment Observation Cars through the Mountains and Winnipeg to Toronto. Through standard Sleeping-and-Tourist Cars.

Pamphlets and full information gladly given by any Canadian Northern Ticket Agent, or R. CREELMAN, G.P.A. W. STAPLETON, D.P.A. J. MADILL, D.P.A. Winnipeg, Man. Saskatoon, Sask. Edmonton, Alta

FOR SALE

2,000 HEIFERS!

Consisting of

1000 choice heifers

600 1 year old heifers

400 2 year old heifers

These Heifers are Shorthorns and Herefords

Can be seen any time after June 20, at the IMPERIAL RANCH, 20 miles North of DELIA.

Full particulars can be had from

E. M. GARDNER

STONE LAW P.O.

The Squire's Sweetheart

BY

KATHARINE TYNAN

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED
London, Melbourne, and Toronto

(Continued.)

Again the expression of her eyes changed. They darkened and lighted in sudden fear. He put an arm about her, with a protecting tenderness, and felt her heart leap under his hand.

"Oh, no, no, she said. "He would kill you. I am sure he would kill you. He must never know. I will go away. I know a convent in France where they would take me in. There I should be safe."

So her fear was for him.

"My little love," he said, and his voice shook. "Say 'I love you, Don' and I will marry you." Leave me the rest. There is no comfort in your seeing that you love me and I love you. I shall know how to keep my own."

"I am afraid—so afraid that he may hurt you."

He stood and kissed the lips lifted to his. There was a rustle—a stealthy sound outside the door, a knocking at the door.

He drew the girl closer to him. He hid her face against his shoulder; he put a hand on her hair, her head.

Oh, no, he fears he would have liked to come to close quarters with the man outside. But she had to be guarded. There must be no noise about her, no talk, no scandal.

The latch was lifted. There was a touch of surprise, pressing hard against the door. The footstep went around the house, stealthily, slowly, with the sound like a padding of some heavy animal.

The Squire put the girl out of his mind. He had a sudden fear that below the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine. The room now was in darkness again.

He could feel the beating of Dolby's heart again as he went back to her and drew her to him in the darkness. It was not so he wished to protect her; not in the darkness listening for a foot as though he were afraid. But it was the only way.

In a few moments the footstep came back again. Again the latch was lifted. Then something hit and rattled against the door like a battering ram. The stout door shook under the assault. Yet there was a stealthiness in the effort to break down the door which was terribly threatening.

The Squire drew the girl to the other side. At the oak-paneled, the pushings and strivings and fumbling with the latch were more ominous than any loud outbreak could have been. It was as though some great bird rather than a field mouse was on the door.

Again there was a quietness, and then the girl quivered in his arms. She tried to get away from him. Her voice whispered at his ear: "I want to open the door. He guessed what was happening." The Squire, outside the door, was exercising a hypnotic influence upon the girl. He was willing her to come to him, to open the door.

His hands closed upon her shoulders, gently, firmly. "Turn to your prayers, my dear," he whispered. "You shall not open the door." With something like a sigh she rested in quietness.

As he had heard the man go away. They did not dare to move lest his going should be a pretense. Never in all his honorable life had the Squire stooped to such a thing as to hide in the dark while his enemy by day.

"Light the lamp," the girl said with a long sigh. "He has gone further and further away."

While he waited for matches he listened to the fact that he had left him, but before he could be uneasy while the flame of the lamp lit up, showing the familiar quiet room, she was back again.

"He is gone," she said with a sigh. She was looking very white and disturbed. Her eyes were as though she had just awakened. "He is gone," she said. "There is bright moonlight now, and I must go to act on the field plan. You had better go, my love. I shall be safe for tonight."

She reached up her arms and clasped them about his neck.

"I have loved you all the time," she said. "Ever since the first day you came into my life. Now, Captain, I was in despair then. He had begun to exercise his influence over me. I was terribly afraid. When you came in I looked at you, and I felt that God had sent me a champion."

"Oh, no, he said. "The Squire, overwhelmed. "And I had been feeling so old. I am not old any longer; I am young. I give you all my life. But—it ought to be Hilary. You overwhelm me with your goodness."

"Generosity!" she repeated, with a sigh. "Ah! How little you know! You will give me rest and peace. You will save me from myself, and him."

He resisted the temptation to prolong the moment, exquisite despite something of a dark shadow upon it.

"My dear," he said, "you do not have sufficient regard for me. I am going to take you back to your brother. You must not be alone here again."

She shrank away from him with a little frightened smile.

"What do you think?" she said. "Let me stay here. I shall be quite safe. I will bolt the door. You see how strong it is. And I will say my prayers. I have not prayed enough."

CHEW "PAY ROLL" TOBACCO

A BRIGHT TOBACCO OF THE FINEST QUALITY

10 CENTS PER PLUG

Marketing Farm Produce

By Mrs. McBeath, Headingley, Manitoba.

(Continued)

For a long time now I have almost forgotten to pray." "I am going to tell them now—to-night that you have given yourself to me. I want all the world to know it. But you must stay here alone. If you insist upon it I shall spend the night outside watching your window. It would be no hardship on such a night."

"You must do not that," she said. "I will come with you, and you shall tell them all that you have given yourself to me. While I stayed there he let me alone, or the influence failed. I will do whatever you will always."

He unbolted the door and stepped into the shadow of the house. Beyond lay the little garden, the beds in the bright moonlight.

She stayed to extinguish the lamp, to find the key of the door.

While he stood there in the shadow he had the greatest fear that his threats would be realized. It was as though a knife were lifted to be plunged into his shoulder-blades.

Nerves, of course! Nothing but nerves. What was coming? A faint cry.

It was a long space of time while Dolby extinguished the lamp and found the key. He had time to turn sick with terror lest at this moment, when he had gained her, when she needed him, he should be slit.

He broke from the fear as one breaks with horrible struggles, from a nightmare. There was a cold sweat over him, and he began to tremble again.

He said to himself, "I must get him again."

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something—something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

He had the feeling of being beaten, of being beaten out of him again.

He knew now how men felt when they looked on Fear. He turned about and gazed at the year he had been in the world, the year he had been a boy.

For a second he imagined that he saw something thin and light like a wraith of the moonlight. For a second he had a clear vision of Mary Clancy's eyes, looking out from the door of the room, through some chink, the light might shine.

The room now was in darkness again.

</

While They Last

Sealers 5c
Cups and Saucers 5c
These are slightly discolored
Men's odd shoes 50c each
Ladies odd shoes 25c each
Mismated Shoes at cheap prices

Have a look

J. R. MILLER*BARB WIRE

We have just opened another car of Lyman 4-pt and Glidden 2-pt Barb Wire and will be pleased to fill your orders at Lyman 4-pt $5.50 net Glidden 2-pt 5.30 " Spring Coil 6.00 "

Satisfaction guaranteed

M. J. HEWITT
Loans and Insurance
of all kinds

Land Listings wanted. I have some good snaps in farm lands. Call in and see.

Now is the time to protect your crops by putting on Some Hail Insurance

I have some of the best Companies, both cash and note. Call in and see me before you insure elsewhere

J. M. DAVIS*PROVINCIAL AUCTIONEER

Is prepared to conduct all kinds of Auction Sales. Terms moderate

CHINOOK. Dates can be made at this office

Groceries, Fruits, &c.

Oranges 30c, 40c, 50c per doz.
Lemons, 45c per. Bananas 12½c per lb
Grape Fruit 15c each
Tomatoes, Lettuce and Rhubarb will be in this week, and all other vegetables and fruit in season

Lard (by the bulk) 28c per lb.

Salt Pork 25c per lb

On account of the big jump in price of flour bread will be 10 cents straight per loaf

Let us have your Grocery Order

Highest market price for Butter and Eggs.

Grocery, Bakery, and Confectionery*The Chinook Produce Co.

IN ARM'S BLOCK, CHINOOK

E. B. MILLS, Manager

W. W. ISBISTER*GENERAL BLACKSMITH

Coulters and Discs Sharpened

Chinook, Alta.

Horse-shoeing and General Wood Work Repairing.

THE CHINOOK ADVANCE

Published every Thursday at Chinook, Alta.
Subscription: $1.00 per year, in advance; to the United States and Old Country, $1.50

Legal Advertising, 12 cents a line for the first insertion and 8 cents a line each subsequent insertion.
Lost, Stolen, or Stolen Autos, 10 cents first insertion, 5 cents each subsequent insertion.

Special Notices in the legal columns 10 cents per line each insertion.

A. NICHOLSON,
Editor and ProprietorCHINOOK MARKETS

Wheat, No. 1	$2 13
" No. 2	2 10
" No. 3	2 05
Oats, No. 2, Canada West	56
Oats, feed	52
Barley	1 00
Flax	2 55
Corn
Live Hogs (Calgary)	13 25
Eggs	25
Butter	30

JUNE WEDDING PRESENTS!

If you are looking for a suitable Wedding Gift don't fail to call and look my stock over

Beautiful Cut Glass*Silver Depositware,*Community Silverware

in the latest designs

Carvers in abundance*Sissors galore High-grade Cutlery in nickel-platedware.

In fact, you can surely find it here

R. S. WOODRUFF*FOR*HAIL INSURANCE*FIRE INSURANCE*REAL ESTATE*LOANS*MASSEY-HARRIS MACHINERY*J. I. CASE MACHINERY

SEE

A. E. FITZGERALD*CHINOOK*W. C. KING*PROVINCIAL*Auctioneer

Munson, Alta.

Dates can be made at Union Bank, Chinook.

B. W. BOYER*LICENSED DRAYMANAll kinds of Draying promptly attended to.
Office at Feed Barn, opposite Crown Lumber YardThe Dodge Car

Is the very Latest Word in Automobiles

It has the Speed, Durability and Economy—three of the most necessary requisites in an auto and, taking all things in consideration, the Cheapest Car on the market

I. W. DEMAN, Chinook, Agent

POWER
SUFFICIENT
TO TAKE YOU
50 MILES AN HOUR OR MORE

If you want a powerful car, economical to buy, economical to run—that will take you in comfort over any roads that can be travelled; that will take any hill on high that the biggest cars will take; that will give you 25 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline, buy a—

Chevrolet

A Real Automobile Fully Equipped

28 Horse Power Valve-in-head Motor
Three Speeds Forward and Reverse 5-passenger $765

Electric Starting and Lighting

Stewart Speedometer Roadster $750

Non-Skid Tires on Rear Wheels f.o.b. Chinook

Canitlever Springs

THE CHEVROLET MOTOR CO., LTD.

A. E. Fitzgerald

Local Distributor

J. R. Myssey Chinook P.O.